GENERAL INFORMATION

HISTORY

The Holston Annual Conference of 1836 was entertained in Weaverville, North Carolina, in a frame building especially constructed for that occasion. This building stood on a slope below the present cemetery. It was known as the "Conference House" and was used for a neighborhood school until 1854, when it was destroyed by fire.

At that time the "Sons of Temperance," in their nation-wide activity, held meetings in North Carolina. It is said that an Ohio man preached all day and that practically all the prominent planters of the country joined his organization. It is related of one well-known man, whose relatives are still prominent people in the neighborhood, that he went home that evening and broke on a stone in the yard the various cut glass decanters which had held for years the different kinds of strong drink on his sideboard, and that he never afterwards used liquor as a beverage.

Some disagreement arose in the local church in regard to the meetings of the "Sons of Temperance", some of the members believing that the church should not be used for that purpose. The disagreement was so sharp that several old-time Methodists moved their membership to the Methodist Protestant church, and a little later a separate building known as Temperance Hall was constructed. The school was carried on in this Hall until it too was burned in 1872. It stood on the other ridge near where Crutchfield Hall now stands. This also was a frame structure.

The section of country benefited by the Weaverville school felt so strongly the need of an educational institution that efforts were put forward at once to build a structure and to extend the work of the institution. The local community was largely responsible for this successful effort. Brick was burned on the place, and a well-proportioned and substantial building, containing six spacious rooms and two large halls, was erected. The institution was in 1872 incorporated as Weaverville College under a local Board of Trustees, independent of any denomination. The first president was Dr. J. A. Reagan. He was followed in order by J.-M. Campbell, Rev. J. S. Kennedy, D. D., E. M. Goolsby, Rev. D. Atkins, D. D., S. A. Trawick, M. A. Yost, A. M., Rev. George F. Kirby, J. M. Robeson, Rev. L. B. Abernethy, Olin S. Dean, A. B., Rev. W. A. Newell, D. S. Hogg, A. B., A. M. Norton, A. M., C. H. Trowbridge, A. M. Under the administration of Dr. D. Atkins in 1883, the college was deeded to the Methodist Episcopal Church, South.

In 1912 the charter was amended to change the name to Weaver College, and to make the institution a junior college doing two years of college work.

LOCATION

WEAVERVILLE.—Weaver College is located in Weaverville, a village of about twelve hundred inhabitants, eight miles north of Asheville, North Carolina. It is said that the Indian name for the ridge on which it stands was Dry Ridge because before historic times it was recognized that the configuration of the mountains freed this particular spot from much of the precipitation common in Western North Carolina. In the very heart of the Asheville plateau, Weaver College has a climate unsurpassed anywhere for healthfulness and comfort. The village stands on an elevated section of the country, but it is surrounded on all sides by lofty mountains. The beauty of the sunsets is indescribable.

Weaverville is an old, cultured college town. The people are thoroughly interested in the College and in their churches and their own High School. The hard surfaced road puts them within twenty minutes of Asheville by automobile, and a considerable portion of the people spend their business hours in the city. The rare combination of quiet college town in the great health resort of the South, within easy access of the musical and other advantages of one of the most thriving cities of the state is of very great value.

ASHEVILLE ATTRACTIONS.—The close proximity to Asheville and the fact that a hard surfaced road connects the town of Weaverville with that city, makes it possible for students of Weaver College to enjoy the best shows and entertainments that come to this well-known metropolis. During the month of August those students who are in Summer School have the privilege of attending performances of grand opera given by the San Carlo Grand Opera Co., recognized as one of the leading companies giving grand opera to-day. Also, among the outstanding Asheville programs which have been enjoyed by special parties of Weaver College students may be mentioned Marion Talley, Edgar A. Guest, Paul Whitman's Orchestra, Jeritza, Geraldine Farrar, William Faversham, "Blossom Time," Galli-Curci, Paderewski, Schumann-Heink, Carolina Playmakers, Duke University Glee Club, nationally known politicians and preachers, innumerable conventions, and a choice selection of the world's best photoplays.

THE ASHEVILLE PLATEAU.—It is well known that the highest peaks of eastern America are in this immediate section. Mt.

Mitchell, 6,711 feet high, has no peer east of the Mississippi River. It can be visited in an automobile between breakfast and supper, as can such famous places as Mt. Pisgah, Chimney Rock, Craggy, the Vanderbilt estate, and numerous other points of interest.

Classes attend court; individuals and groups see prominent visitors, attend athletic and forensic contests, hear great preachers.

MOVING TO WEAVERVILLE

Weaverville has four churches and an excellent high school in addition to the advantages provided by Weaver College. It makes an ideal home for the family in which children are growing up. Its own progressiveness and the proximity of Asheville provide good opportunities for lucrative employment.

Weaverville has concrete paving on most of its streets including three which touch the college campus. It has an adequate sewer system and an abundant water supply from its own water sheds. It is connected with Asheville by telephone and electric light lines. Buses run every hour in each direction between Asheville and Weaverville.

The College will gladly correspond with people who wish to move to a college town, as there are often opportunities to buy or rent property at reasonable rates.

PROPERTY

The campus has grown by donations and purchase to include fifty-five acres of lawns, forest, gardens, pastures, and lake. Some $10,000 worth of land has been purchased since the Centenary contributions began to come in.

LAKE LOUISE.—In 1921 Mrs. C. R. Moore, now Mrs. C. E. Hornaday, donated to the College about twenty acres including Lake Jaunita, which name has since been changed to Lake Louise in honor of the donor. The lake covers about six acres and has in it a rocky island connected to the mainland by a bridge. The lake furnishes opportunity for fishing, boating, and bathing when suitable supervision is available.

DUNHAM FIELD

In 1921 the athletic field was constructed largely through the generosity of Mr. H. A. Dunham, of Asheville. The cost of grading was approximately $3,000. Dunham Field provides for football and baseball. Tennis and basketball courts find space elsewhere on the campus. In 1926 Dunham Field was enlarged and a substantial grandstand was constructed, the cost being provided by the Alumni Association. Since that time improvements have been added.

BUILDINGS

ADMINISTRATION BUILDING.—The architecturally good brick building constructed in 1874 was outgrown in twenty years, and its capacity was more than doubled in 1895. The addition contains a large and attractive chapel, three good classrooms, a science laboratory, and a storeroom for chemicals, apparatus, and library pamphlets. The original building contains the library, class rooms, the offices, the bookroom, quarters for the commercial department, and two society halls which have been used for the forensic training of generations of boys.

THE "WHITE HOUSE".—A substantial frame building was erected in 1886 for the use of the President. It is a two-story house with nine rooms and bath. The growth of the student body has drafted it for dormitory purposes. It is occupied by teachers and women students.

CRUTCHFIELD HALL was constructed in 1908 and named as a memorial to Rev. George W. Crutchfield, whose persistent efforts secured funds which made the building possible. Mr. Crutchfield was pastor of the Weaverville station, and he probably broke his health in the arduous labors connected with the raising of money for this building.

In 1922 steam heat was installed in Crutchfield Hall. It has water and sewer connections and is always comfortable.

SKINNER HALL.—In 1922 Mr. D. E. Skinner, of the class of '87, contributed $25,000 for the erection of the boy's dormitory. This was supplemented by $20,000 from the Centenary contribution, and Skinner Hall is the result. It has hard wood floors throughout, steam heat, bath rooms on each floor, and is equipped with hot and cold water in lavatories and showers, and with all modern conveniences, including a telephone.

The site selected for Skinner Hall is the northwest corner of the old Reems Creek Camp Grounds, one of the historic localities of Western North Carolina. It is said Bishop Asbury preached on this spot. His Journal names repeated visits to the Killian home between Weaverville and Asheville, between 1800 and 1813. The old camp meeting arbor fell under a heavy load of snow in 1893. A seat still remains around the tree which sheltered the speaker's stand, and a few trees, probably living in Asbury's time, are still standing in that part of the campus.

COTTAGES.—In addition to the three dormitories and the Administration Building, there are two frame cottages on the place. A residence just off the campus is rented as a president's home.

THE LIBRARY

The library contains about 4,000 volumes, most of which are modern works dealing with the various departments operated in the high school and college. Many of these books, however, are very rare copies, some of them containing autographs of famous men. These books are shelved in the original chapel of the old building, a light, airy room 50x29 feet, where the books are easily accessible. They have been catalogued according to the Dewey Decimal system. Additional books are constantly being received.

LABORATORIES

SCIENCE.—The science laboratory occupies one of the largest rooms in the Administration Building and is well designed for work in high school biology and physics, and for college work in chemistry. New equipment and material are being obtained as there is call for it, and the science department is especially well equipped for its work.

HOME ECONOMICS.—The Domestic Science class uses the Reliable gas range with Pyrofax gas, though instructions and practice are provided in the operation of coal ranges. The New Home sewing machine is used by Domestic Art students.

The following medals are offered:

The Orator's medal, by C. F. Bland of Hendersonville, for the best Junior or Senior oration; the Essayist's medal, for the best essay by a young lady in the Junior or Senior Class; the Declaimer's medal; the Reader's medal, to the winner of the young ladies' recitation contest; the Housekeeper's medal, to the best housekeeper among the girls in the boarding department, given by Mrs. H. B. Weaver of Asheville; the Laura Reeves medal, to the best all-round girl student, by Mrs. Gay Green, of Asheville, in memory of her mother; the Harmony medal, by Mrs. O. C. Hamilton of Asheville, for excellence in the Harmony Class; and the Benefactor's medal, to the student who does most for Weaver College during the year. The recipients of the Laura Reeves and the Benefactor's medals are determined by the Faculty. General influence and helpfulness, college spirit, and student activities, as well as scholarship, are to be considered in the award of the Laura Reeves medal.

In addition to the above mentioned medals, the Cliosophic and Delphian societies, respectively, offer to their own students respectively, medals for improvement in debate, for improvement in declamation, for participation in the Junior Debate, and for supremacy in the Day Debates or such of these contests as may occur. Friends of the Mnemosynean and Euterpean Societies provide medals for excellence in debate, in composition, and in public speaking.

ALUMNI

The graduates of Weaver College have always been loyal, helping particularly with athletics and forensics. Since the re-organization of the Association in the fall of 1923, unusual interest has been shown.

DONATIONS

It is impossible to list all donations to Weaver College, but a partial list is inserted to do justice to the benefactors, as far as possible. It is hoped that the incompleteness of this list may lead to the acquisition of further information concerning gifts to the institution.

LAND.—Mr. Mont Weaver donated five acres on which the original brick building was erected in 1873 and 1874. Later Captain W. E. Weaver, of Weaverville, and Mr. D. E. Skinner, of Seattle, Washington, have added to the campus without cost to the College. Mrs. Charles R. Moore donated twenty acres of land, including beautiful Lake Louise. The Centenary fund paid for other portions of the property.

BUILDINGS.—The original Administration Building was paid for, chiefly, by residents of Weaverville. Crutchfield Hall was built from funds secured in a strenuous campaign throughout Western North Carolina by Rev. G. W. Crutchfield. The nucleus of the fund which paid for Skinner Hall was $25,000 donated by D. E. Skinner. This was supplemented by the Centenary and Christian Education funds, subscribed to by hundreds of loyal alumni and friends.

IMPROVEMENTS.—The construction of Dunham Athletic Field, the roofing of the Administration Building, the renovation of the frame dormitory, and innumerable smaller improvements have come from Mr. H. A. Dunham. Mr. H. C. Johnson, of Asheville, has aided greatly by graveling the roads to and through the campus. The Charles W. Byrd Sunday School Class of Central Methodist Church, Asheville, furnished the sitting room in the girl's dormitory. This building has been redecorated and its sitting room has been refurnished completely during the past year. A new hot water plant and well designed fire escapes have recently been installed.

PLANTS.—Contributions of shrubs and decorative plants have been made by Mrs. T. Allison, of Horseshoe, N. C., Miss M. A. Pearsall, of Rocky Mount, N. C., Mrs. Maymie C. Hardin, of Forest City, N. C., Congressman Zebulon Weaver, Miss Lucy Reeves, Marshall, N. C., Dr. Dan Atkins, Mrs. W. B. Weaver, Mr. Silas Izant, and many other Weaverville people. Mr. H. L. Morris and Mrs. Oscar McLurd have donated many plants and shrubs and much valuable time and advice to the beautification of the campus. The labor of setting out the plants has been done gratuitously, in large part, by College students.

The College Seniors of 1929 created an extensive rock garden between the Administration Building and Crutchfield Hall. The High School Senior class of the same year constructed a concrete aquarium and stocked it with goldfish and water plants. Both classes were assisted enthusiastically by friends in the neighborhood.

SERVICES.—The amount of valuable time contributed by members of the Board of Trustees and other friends is incalculable. Among the most liberal in recent years might be mentioned Rev. G. W. Crutchfield, Frank M. Weaver, Charles R. Moore, H. A. Dunham, C. W. Brown, Rev. C. M. Pickens, E. R. Presson, C. A. Reap and Dr. J. N. Gill, of the Alumni Association, and a large number of Methodist preachers and of former students of the College.

BOOKS.—Recent additions to the Library by gift or by loan have come from Rev. H. C. Sprinkle; the Asheville Y. M. C. A.; Greensboro College; Lamar and Barton, Nashville, Tenn.; from Joseph H. Wehling, Emory Lyda, Rev. O. E. Croy, John C. Vernon, Howard L. Wells, and Miss Eula English, while students of the College; from Dean W. E. Powell, Dr. Beulah B. Briley, Prof. G. A. Clauss, Mrs. S. N. C., Congressman Zebulon Weaver, Mrs. Elias, of Asheville; John B. Mayo, Richmond, Va.; Mrs. G. C. Oberholtzer, Mrs. Margaret Siler, Weaverville; Cokesbury Press, Nashville; Mrs. Le Roy, Washington, D. C.; O. B. Jones, Hendersonville, N. C.; History CI class, 1927-'28; Hon. Gallatin Roberts gave a valuable clock to the library. The libraries of Dr. D. Atkins and Rev. E. R. Welch were added and cataloged in 1928-1929.

SCHOLARSHIPS.—Mr. H. C. Johnson, through the Buncombe Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, maintains a full scholarship known as the Harriett Johnson Franklin Scholarship which pays all tuition expenses of one girl. Mrs. Rosa P. Teasley, of Asheville, provides aid for one ministerial student. The Young Ladies' Class of the West Market Street Sunday School, Greensboro, supplements the earnings of one girl. Mr. Elias' Bible Class of Central Church, Asheville, has made liberal work scholarship contributions. The Asheville Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy designates the beneficiary of two tuition scholarships and the Parent-Teachers' Association of the Reeves Creek District awards one for high records in the local school.

The Board of Trustees offers a number of scholarships of $25.00 each to worthy students who earn some part of their expenses. These scholarships are credited on the account each quarter as a testimonial of industry and good conduct.

SUSTENTATION FUND.—Like all other colleges with vision, Weaver has had financial difficulties. In 1925 the Board found that every year the running expenses created a deficit which was being balanced from the Christian Education Fund. After wisely concluding that this could not continue, they proceeded to secure annuity subscriptions to take care of this deficit. The largest subscribers to this temporary fund were: Mr. Gay Green, Mr. Rufus Weaver, Professor J. J. Reagan, Mrs. W. T. Weaver, Edwin L. Brown, V. R. Patterson, Graham Brown, J. F. Reeves, R. E. Carmichael, S. M. Alsobrook, J. V. Erskine, S. P. Burton, Rev. H. C. Sprinkle, Guy Weaver, C. C. Leonard, Miss Pearl Weaver, C. E. Chambers, H. A. Dunham, H. C. Johnson, W. B. Davis, C. W. Brown, W. M. Reagan, D. E. Skinner, Charles G. Lee, and C. M. Malone

Most of these subscribers pledged generous amounts for three years with the hope that by that time an Endowment Fund would be providing income.

DUKE ENDOWMENT FUND.—In the fall of 1925 Mr. B. N. Duke, of New York City, offered $50,000.00 if the College would raise another $50,000 within two years. Rev. Carlock Hawk was selected to secure this fund, and he worked at it from June to the meeting of the Annual Conference in October, 1926. After Conference H. A. Dunham completed the campaign, and in January, 1927, announced that Mr. Duke's proposition had been met.

The income from this endowment will somewhat more than take care of the deficit in running expenses, and with other stable funds, amply meets the requirements of the accrediting agencies.

LOAN FUNDS.—In 1928, the first income from the Rev. R. W. Pickens Loan Fund became available. This fund has been created by Rev. C. M. Pickens, President of the Weaver College Alumni Association, in honor of his father. The fund is administered by the Central Bank and Trust Company, of Asheville.

The General Board of Education of the M. E. Ch., So., announced in 1926 that it holds $300 to be loaned to ministerial or other life service students of Weaver College. This fund is handled by the Treasurer of the General Board of Education. An equal amount has been available each year.

The Kawanis Club of Asheville operates a small loan fund for the use of Weaver College seniors. The College administers more than a thousand dollars of North Carolina Masonic Loan Funds.

ADVANTAGES OF JUNIOR COLLEGE TRAINING

The junior college is growing in popularity and importance throughout the country as its advantages become known. In many sections of the union a large proportion of all college freshmen are being trained in junior colleges. Every year more are being organized, and the time undoubtedly will come when every progressive city of considerable size will give two years of college training to its own children.

The chief reasons for the remarkable growth of the junior college are:

1. Adequate attention can be paid to the development of individual students.

2. Large opportunities for training in leadership are available to Freshman and Sophomores in institutions where there are no third and fourth year college classes. Each student thus has a greater chance to lead in his own particular extra-curricular field.

3. Students who will not complete the four-year course are enabled to select a course adapted to their own individual needs, and to take a junior college diploma at the end of two years.

4. Investigation and experience show that graduates of junior colleges hold their own in the classroom and in student activities when they enter the junior class of a four-year college or university. They have, in the average case, been trained at least as well as the university junior, and they have gained in experience from the responsibilities they have carried on in the small college.

PURPOSE OF WEAVER COLLEGE

Weaver College aims definitely to help certain classes of young people. It does not claim to be the best institution for educating every one, but it recognizes the needs of a large group of worthy and ambitious young people and adapts its curriculum, its regulations, and its expense list to fit their needs.

1. It offers honest Freshman and Sophomore courses leading toward the A. B. degree of an A-grade college or university, fitting students at small expense and in personal contact with their teachers for the junior class in an A-grade college.

2. It offers two years of Business Administration to those who wish to go on with a business administration course in a university, or for those who find that they must enter commercial pursuits after two years of college training. Students are urged wherever possible, however, to complete the four years of college work.

3. The course in Education and Religious Education is provided (a) for those who wish to go on with this line of work in a university; (b) for those who expect to teach or to preach and are unable to go further at present with their studies; (c) for those who expect to become useful members of society in their homes without further college training. In this group also effort is made to induce each one to continue his or her college work in some four-year institution.

4. A strong department of music provides training for those who expect to complete their musical education here or elsewhere and for those who plan to train themselves for giving pleasure in the home and service in the church and community. This course encourages students to continue their training, but is adapted also to accomplish the most possible for those who spend only two years in college.

5. A General Course, consisting largely of electives, is provided for those who, for any reason desire a junior college course of real worth constructed to fit individual needs. This course is independent of tradition; and any student, with the advice of the faculty, can build for himself a curriculum that will make life most worth while for his particular personality. It is not designed as a foundation for further work leading to a degree.

6. Vocational courses in Music, Bookkeeping, Stenography, and Home Economics are provided for those who wish to prepare themselves at once for earning money. These courses are all carried on in a college atmosphere, where one's contacts are educationally broadening. The pupil has the advantage of wholesome and pleasant dormitory life, and the system of payments quarterly makes it possible for an industrious student to push the work and to cease making payments when the requirements of the course have been met.

All these courses of study are constructed with the idea that a great many of our Southern young people desire to do sincere, hard work in a Christian atmosphere and in pleasant social surroundings where they personally know all the students and teachers, and where the fees are estimated to cover the cost of the comparatively inexpensive Freshmen and Sophomore years without the loading demanded by the vastly more costly Junior and Senior years.

For an outline of these five curricula and of the admission requirements for each, see page 45-47.

METHODS

In the working out of the aims just mentioned, Weaver College employs an adequate number of teachers thoroughly equipped by training and experience for the work of a junior college. It provides a library and laboratory, equipped for junior college needs without the immense expense demanded by extensive research. It provides comfortable dormitories under the supervision of thoughtful and considerate college officials where the students have more freedom and responsibility than is customary in high school life, and still where the necessity for mature judgment on the part of the students is not so great as in the large college or university. It thus furnishes one of the most efficient methods by which a young person with good intentions can adjust himself to the intricate problems connected with the beginning of his life away from home influences.

PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT

COLLEGE ATTITUDE

While almost every college, large and small, is in a position to give intellectual training of a high order, it is universally recognized that the great problem of education is to instill into the motive principles of the young, those personal traits which far more than knowledge alone contribute to happiness and usefulness in life. In an attempt to give some degree of scientific training to these various qualities of heart and habit which cannot effectively be taken care of in the class room, Weaver College teachers give frequent estimates of the impression made upon them individually by their pupils in regard to a number of the elements fundamental to success. After making some study of the questions asked by employment agencies, bonding companies, and vocational guidance advisers, the faculty chooses the following features of human life to receive consideration at their hands in the form of carefully evolved marks in College Attitude.

ELEMENTS FROM WHICH COLLEGE ATTITUDE GRADE IS MADE UP

1. MANNERS: In dormitory, at table, in school, in public; reverence.

2. NEATNESS: Care of room, personal neatness, neatness of clothing.

3. RESPECT FOR PROPERTY: Dormitory, campus, Administration Building, personal possessions, property of others.

4. CO-OPERATION: With faculty and with student organizations and with individuals; community usefulness.

5. INITIATIVE: In study and in class, and in student activities; foresight; leadership; self-control.

6. ATTENDANCE AND PUNCTUALITY: At meals, at college assignments, at student activities, at Sunday school and church.

7. DEPENDABLENESS: Consistency in good recitations, good conduct, and in courtesy; business punctuality.

8. EARNESTNESS: In study, in care of health, in student activities; ambition.

9. IMPROVEMENTS: In general bearing, in reciting, in conduct.

10. SOCIAL LIFE: Compliance with regulations which govern relations between men and women students; etiquette in society; attractiveness of disposition; tact.

In making these estimates, teachers mark every student on every element on which they have information, especially remembering to give credit for creditable acts or traits. They omit marks for those pupils whom they do not know, and for those traits of pupils they know, if they have never had opportunity to observe the pupil in the respect under consideration.

The blanks upon which each teacher marks each student in each of these particulars are made accessible to the students after the general average of all marks from all the teachers has been recorded. Each student is thus able to determine what traits of his character seem strong to this group of teachers, and what points in their judgment need his consideration and attention. This grade is called College Attitude, and the students are often more eager to see what impression they are making on their teachers in these essential features than they are to see what their class-room marks are. The responsiveness of the student to this effort on the part of the teachers is very gratifying, for it seems probable that the estimate obtained in this analytical way by a group of teachers is approximately a measure of the impression a student will make upon the people he deals with elsewhere. It comes pretty close to being a measure of that elusive but vitally important thing called Personality.

STUDENT ACTIVITIES

GOVERNMENT

The students at Weaver College have not as yet chosen to adopt anything very close to student government. They prefer, for the present at least, to have some member of the faculty responsible for each dormitory and each class room. They have here, however, taken over certain parts of the student life for their own responsibilities and, except that the College reserves the right to veto any action of any unit of the College or to take over any disciplinary responsibility at any time, these organizations handle their own problems. In Skinner Hall the men students make and enforce rules for the maintenance of order in the building. The women students in Crutchfield Hall have no definite organization, but it is well understood that any act which disturbs the dormitory life and which hurts the good name of the group will not be tolerated.

Jas. T. Barden, Jr., '30, and Stanley Rash, '30, have served as Chairman of the Student Council during the current year. Associated with them have been Grier Beam, Elmer Latham, Clifford Peace, Hite Helms, P. F. Snider, Hubert Liner.

The various athletic, social, literary and religious organizations of the College are described later. Each has its own function and looks after its business, consulting frequently with the College authorities and acting always subject to their veto.

COLLEGE COUNCIL

The co-ordination of the activities of the various college groups is in the hands of the College Council, in which every official organization including the faculty is represented. Any new question unanswered by precedent or faculty ruling can be brought to the Council. If its solution involves a considerable number of the college people, the Council decides whether or not to put the question for discussion before the organizations represented. The College Council eliminates friction and facilitates co-operation among the various college organizations. This stimulates the students to participate in planning for the development of the College, tends to give them practice in debating live topics, and gives to college problems a careful study from every point of view.

LITERARY SOCIETIES

The Delphian and Cliosopic literary societies are the two historic student organizations of the College. Throughout North Carolina and in other parts of the world are men who count their work in one or the other of these societies as the most valuable education they have received anywhere. The Mnemosynean and Euterpean societies for young women are respectively sister organizations to the two men's societies. These societies together are largely responsible for the college work in reading, declamation, debate, and dramatics, including intercollegiate contests. Work in the societies is compulsory, for the training they give is essential to success and is not otherwise provided for by the College. The men's societies have their own tastefully furnished rooms which are equipped with platform, tables, chairs, and library.

DEBATING

DEBATE COUNCIL—All intercollegiate and intersociety debates are under the immediate or delegated supervision of the Debate Council, in which the faculty and the four literary societies are represented.

DEBATES—A large part of the activities of the literary societies center in the various debates. Each program, in general, has a debate as a salient feature. In the spring, a proposition is announced one day to be debated within twelve hours by as many members of the Delphian or Cliosophic societies as care to participate. The Junior Debate at Commencement is one of the outstanding events of the college year. Intercollegiate debates are arranged from time to time, giving an opportunity to practice this noble art on the part of all students. The debating interests of Weaver College have long been among her most cherished traditions. The debates of the past are among the most fertile topics of conversation in Alumni meetings, and many prominent lawyers, jurists, and preachers trace their success to the forensic contests in this institution.

The Debate Council for the year 1928-1929 consisted of the following officers and members: Ernestine Fincher, Pres.; Carlyle Rutledge, Vice-Pres.; Loleeta Smith, Sec.; Ernestine Fincher and Locke Martin, representing the Mnemosynean Society; Herschell Hipps and Earl Morgan, representing the Delphian Society; Loleeta Smith and Hazel Burchette, representing the Euterpean Society; Carlyle Rutledge and Hugh Rogers, representing the Cliosophic Society.

The inter-collegiate Debaters for 1928-1929 were Mrs. E. H. Measamer, '29, and Miss Victoria Morrison, '30, on the Affirmative, and Miss Bernice Avett, '29 and Miss Ernestine Fincher, '29, on the Negative. The men who contested other junior colleges were P. L. Snider, '30 and Lloyd Allison, '29, for the Affirmative, and Carlyle Rutledge, '30, and Herschell Hipps, '29, for the Negative. The Affirmative women lost to Wingate and to the Appalachian Training School. The Negative women won from Wingate and from Cullowhee. Both men's teams lost to Mars Hill. In the men's triangle the Affirmative won from Cullowhee by a challenged decision, and the Negative lost to Boone. All inter-collegiate debates were on the Query, Resolved, That North Carolina should levy a state ad valorem tax on real and personal property to aid in the support of a minimum eight months school term.

RELIGIOUS ORGANIZATION

EPWORTH LEAGUE—All students in the boarding department are considered members of the Epworth League. No dues are required, but every student is expected to contribute some effort toward the accomplishment of the tasks and responsibilities undertaken by the organization. The Epworth League takes charge of the Vesper Service each Sunday afternoon, and assumes a general guardianship over all the religious interests of the college community. The social life of the campus is largely in the hands of the Social Committee of the League. The collection of missionary money and other philanthropic funds is often undertaken by various committees of the League, and, consequently the management of lyceum courses, the sale of tickets, candy, etc., very naturally is first offered to the Epworth League. At present, the mid-week prayer meeting for young women is directed by the Devotional Committee.

The Epworth League Council for the College year 1928-1929 contained the following members: President, Bernice Avett; Vice-President, Mabel Nesbitt; Secretary, Jack Barden; Treasurer, Carrie Lee Weaver; Superintendent First Department, Hite Helms; Superintendent Second Department, Carlyle Rutledge; Superintendent Third Department, Ernestine Fincher; Superintendent Fourth Department, Mary Virginia Cox.

MINISTERIAL BAND—The licensed preachers in the faculty and in the student body, together with those who are preparing to preach or to do other definitely religious work are associated in a ministerial band. They hold weekly meetings, supply pulpits of neighboring charges when called on, and exert a pronounced influence for good upon the entire institution. They feel a particular responsibility for the evangelistic efforts of the College and the community and are always efficient when revival efforts are under consideration or in progress.

Y. M. C. A.—In 1924 the young men decided to effect a definite organization of their religious activities for men on the campus, and a college Young Men's Christian Association was instituted and affiliated with the state and national headquarters. The Thursday evening prayer meeting in Skinner Hall is provided for by this group of men, and they stand ready to undertake other responsibilities coming in their province.

The Y. M. C. A. officers for 1928-1929 were H. J. Liner, President; Jas. T. Barden, Jr., Vice-President; J. O. Summey, Secretary and Treasurer; Program Committee, Stowe Carpenter, Grier Beam, and Lowell Glover.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL is managed by student officers elected by the Epworth League Cabinet. Each set of officers serves for a term of one quarter, and thus four sets of earnest young people are trained each year for Sunday School efficiency. This experience, in combination with the theoretical work of the Religious Education courses enables a young Christian to undertake religious work at home with some degree of confidence.

The officers for the four quarters of 1928-1929 were as follows: First Quarter: Supt., Herschell Hipps; Sec., J. O. Summey.

Second Quarter: Supt., Hite Helms; Sec., Mabel Nesbitt.

Third Quarter: Supt., Dora Blanton; Sec., Carlyle Rutledge.

Fourth Quarter: Supt., Mabel Nesbitt; Sec., Hazel Burchette.

LIFE SERVICE BAND—A considerable number of students and teachers in Weaver College are looking forward to lives of Christian usefulness and desire to associate themselves together with others who have similar religious ambitions. They have, therefore, organized the Life Service Band, and admit to its membership all who consider their lives consecrated to God's service, whether they have or have not felt a definite call to some vocation within the church. They accomplish much good in holding Christian young people up to their religious standards and in encouraging steady growth in spiritual living.

PUBLICATIONS

The students compose, edit, and manage two periodicals, a monthly called The Weaver Pep, and The Mountaineer, issued annually. These activities give opportunity for development of native talent in writing, drawing, interviewing, making business contracts, soliciting advertising, and the many other fields pertaining to the publishing business. The staff of the Weaver Pep for the year 1928-1929 was William Stubbs, '30, Editor-in-chief, and Hugh Rogers, '30, Business Manager. The Editor-in-chief of the Mountaineer was Halsey B. Leavitt, Jr., '29; the Business Manager was Ralph A. Kennedy, '29. Other members of the staff were Miss Ernestine Fincher, Miss Bernice Avett, Miss Olive Jones, Miss Maye Kennedy, Mr. Mark Pridgen, and Mr. Grier Beam, all members of the Senior Class. The Weaver Bulletin, published quarterly, is edited by the president of the College and devoted to alumni notes and items of general interest to the friends and alumni of the College. The Pep and The Bulletin were founded in 1923. The Mountaineer was revived in 1923-1924, but its first appearance was in 1920.

ATHLETICS

ATHLETIC IDEAL—The athletic ideal is not so much the putting out of winning teams as it is the increase of health and physical strength in each student with all the mental and spiritual qualities essential to athletics. Each student is therefore, required to take a certain amount of physical culture each week, preferably in some organized sport, though the need of the individual will be carefully considered in the assignment of physical exercises.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL—The Faculty, The Alumni Association, and the students are represented in the Athletic Council, which manages all major and minor sports subject to the veto of the President.

The Athletic Council for 1928-1929 consisted of Harvey Robinson, Ruth Hanson, and Kenneth Vinson, representing the Athletic Association; Dr. J. N. Gill and E. R. Presson, of the Alumni Association; and H. R. Baker and C. H. Trowbridge, of the Faculty.

MAJOR AND MINOR SPORTS—Regular college teams are drilled for football and baseball, under experienced coaches selected by the Athletic Council subject to confirmation by the Board of Trustees. When the gymnasium is in use, basketball will be added. Track and tennis teams are developed as interest and opportunity permit. Boating and swimming are possible at Lake Louise when proper equipment and supervision are available, but permission to use the lake must be obtained from the President.

DRAMATICS

A few good plays are prepared and presented by students each year, and a considerable amount of time is devoted to dramatics. A certain amount of credit is allowed for "official" plays, under the head of Public Speaking. Each pair of societies plans to present one play in the fall or early winter, and the Senior Class works up one play in the spring, using students with some stage experience. Occasionally one or more of these productions is presented off the campus.

ELIGIBILITY

1. Only bona fide students may represent the College in any intercollegiate contest. Bona-fide students are those who are carrying successfully at least nine hours of college work and who meet other assignments of the College.

2. No person who receives or has received any compensation from the College for services rendered as an instructor in athletics or other branches shall be eligible for participation in intercollegiate contests. This does not apply to bona-fide students who are working their way wholly or in part.

3. The College shall not give financial help or assistance to any student on account of his participation in intercollegiate athletics.

4. All conference regulations shall be binding for conference contests.

5. Officers and public representatives of student organizations must be members in good standing of the respective organizations and bona-fide students in Weaver College.

DORMITORY LIFE

DORMITORY ACCOMMODATIONS—The space in the college dormitories is limited and it frequently becomes necessary for students to room off the campus. If students live with relatives or friends, the College must know where they are and must have on file certificates to show that both the parents and the College approve the boarding house.

The College has arrangements with certain homes near the campus by which students who live there are under the control of the College in very much the same way that it supervises those in its own dormitories. The College is represented by some one in these homes who has charge of those who room there. This representative will correct disorder directly, or turn the matter over to the Faculty if necessary to secure good conduct and good study. Men and women students are not permitted to live in the same dormitory, unless by special action of the Faculty.

ABSENCES FROM COLLEGE—The students in the dormitories are governed by the regulations usually maintained in similar colleges. They are not expected to leave the village or receive visitors except with the consent of the College, with the permission tacit or expressed of the parents or guardians. If parents leave this matter to the discretion of the faculty, permissions are granted liberally to students whose conduct shows sufficient maturity and good judgment. The regulations as to leaving Weaverville will, at the discretion of the faculty, vary with the wishes of the parents and the conduct of the student, thus encouraging thoughtful young people and giving the needed supervision to careless ones. Students participating in intercollegiate contests are not permitted to miss more than six recitations in any course in a semester on account of such contests.

DORMITORY REGULATIONS—All dormitories must be kept quiet during study hours and all students must be in their rooms, with the light extinguished, after the light bell unless they have permission from the Dean to the contrary. The particular form of other dormitory regulations varies with the demands of the situation and is largely influenced by the wish of the students involved. Experience shows that the great majority of Weaver College students want a good opportunity for study, and the details of the regulation can profitably be left in their hands. All rooms will be inspected and must be kept in good order. The respective Deans have full authority in the dormitories except in specified responsibilities turned over to student committees.

SOCIAL CALLS AND FUNCTIONS—Young ladies in the dormitories receive visitors with the permission of their Dean. Occasional receptions are held on the campus under the auspices of the Epworth League or some other student organization. Every effort is made to give the students the social life under which a normal American should develop, remembering the peculiar situation of students away from home.

SPECIAL PERMISSION—If parents or guardians wish the pupils for whom they are responsible to leave Weaverville for any reason, they should communicate directly with the Dean in regard to the time for departure and return. Other matters of supervision such as assignment and care of rooms, dress, conduct, etc., are handled at the direction of the respective Deans. If some request for particular treatment is received from the parent or guardian, it should come in writing at least one week before action is taken, that the College may indicate just how far it can comply with the wishes of the parents.

WHAT TO BRING—The bedrooms are equipped with beds, mattresses, and straight chairs. It is therefore necessary that students and teachers provide six table napkins, pillows, at least three sheets, three pillow cases, heavy bedding, towels, soap, and such room decorations as they use. Each student should have rubbers, umbrella, and a rain coat in addition to a heavy coat for cold weather. The young ladies bring bedding for double beds, but the men's dormitory is furnished with single beds.

NEW STUDENTS—All relations of students to other students is based on the American idea of "No government without the consent of the governed." Students enroll expecting to be governed by the Faculty or their appointees. Occasionally some student acts as foreman or supervisor, at the appointment of the Faculty, and he is thereby entitled to respect and obedience in so far as his specified authority extends. When a group of students meet and enact rules or regulations governing their conduct, they are individually responsible for the observance of those rules and for obedience and respect to officers elected to enforce them. When a student voluntarily or in compliance with a college regulation joins any student group or organization, it is his duty to comply with the regulations of that group or organization. Preparation for life requires that he learn to live up to his agreements.

But no student or group of students has any right to make or to enforce any regulations upon another student without his consent or his having an opportunity to vote on the regulations. This applies particularly to any physical treatment of the person of the new student, but includes also requirements as to dress, conduct, etc. This is clearly understood by the old students, as they have been largely instrumental in building up this tradition of Weaver College and have themselves entered on this basis. They return to Weaver College with the understanding that they extend to new students the consideration they have themselves received.

This custom permits all sports conducive to the development of manhood, but gives the new men the power to determine the condition under which they shall live while in Weaver College. The discussions preceding such votes are often tests of mental ability and invaluable opportunities for self-development.

The spirit of the old students is to incorporate the new pupils into the college family as perfectly as possible, passing on to them the best traditions of the College without forgetting the fundamental principles of Americanism.

HABIT TRAINING

CO-OPERATION

COLLEGE TRAINING is exceedingly imperfect if it contributes to its students facts only or even facts with some mental training. It cannot ignore the great value of habit.

ATHLETICS holds a position of the greatest influence for good or for evil. If it can be used to focus the unconquerable power of the students on some one aim and can teach every member of the college to contribute his part to that common goal, it has in it a spiritual value of the highest order. Training in the habit of co-operation and sacrifice to further the common interest tend to develop that habit of thought and action which is one of the fundamental elements in all citizenship. If on the other hand athletics becomes commercialized, it is the foulest sort of a danger spot. If it becomes too prominent in the thought of the institution, it undermines the very seriousness and earnestness which the college life should produce. Weaver College recognizes both possibilities and strives to get all the good from athletics without any of the dross.

PUNCTUALITY

ATTENDANCE AT COLLEGE ASSIGNMENTS.—The habit of regular attendance upon assigned tasks is one of the elements in character which the college can establish in the developing youth. Weaver College, therefore, insists that every student must be present at every college assignment or take certain consequences. In case of absence the student should report the cause of the absence to the Dean. If the Dean considers the reason a good one, he writes an excuse for the absence. The student is then permitted to make up the work missed by accomplishing some extra assignment from the teacher. If the omitted work is not made up, the semester grade is lowered two per cent for each college class exercise missed. Unexcused absences cannot be made up and each counts heavily from the semester grade. Tardiness counts as a fractional part of absence.

Absences just before or just after any vacation count twice as much as similar absences at any other time. Any student who has three unexcused absences in any quarter shall, at the option of the instructor, be given some special assignment. Any student who has five unexcused absences in any semester shall be debarred from receiving credit for that semester's work in that course. No more than a passing grade can be secured by any make-up examination. A charge of fifty cents must be paid for making up recitations or examinations unless otherwise arranged with the Dean. Meetings of a class before a student begins meeting that class are counted as absences, governed by regulations stated above.

REVERENCE

As a Methodist school, patronized and financed largely by religious people, Weaver College gladly recognizes the value of religious training as a factor in education. It believes that any work, intellectual or moral, can be handled more successfully in combination with religious experiences than under any other influence. It strives, therefore, quietly but definitely to develop in all its students a reverence for all religious aspirations and a desire on the part of each student to secure the help that comes from the consciousness of personal acceptance of the Divine. To this end chapel exercises are held five times a week and attendance at this exercise is required. Attendance at Sunday School and at the morning church service each Sunday is also required. Once or twice during the year an evangelist is brought to the campus as a guest of the College to hold a meeting which usually lasts only a few days. Attendance on these meetings is also a part of the College assignment. The Epworth League holds Vesper services every Sunday afternoon during the college year. The Young Men's Christian Association conducts a mid-week prayer meeting in the men's dormitory, and a similar meeting is held in Crutchfield Hall. Family prayers are conducted daily in the dining room. A standard Sunday School Training School is conducted in the College each winter. Personal work is in progress a great deal of the time and there is a constant influence directed against all unchristian acts. The attitude of the teachers and the majority of the students makes the campus a stimulating place for the development of moral and spiritual fiber.

BUSINESS TRAINING

In addition to the habits of co-operation and citizenship which can be gained through athletics; the promptness and reliability acquired by regularity at class and chapel roll call; and the habit of reverence gained through the religious interests, Weaver College considers that business accuracy and dependability is another habit essential in character training. It therefore lays down certain reasonable regulations in regard to the payments of fees, and strives to cultivate this habit as it does others by connecting satisfaction with obedience to rules and some displeasure and annoyance with disregard for them.

ADVANCE PAYMENTS.—The rates of Weaver College are as low as possible for the accomplishment of the business it sets out to do for its students. These rates are not padded with a per cent for loss on bad accounts which is certain with a credit system, and the rates are therefore payable quarterly in advance unless special arrangement is made for another system more convenient for the patron. A two per cent discount is allowed where fees are paid in advance for the quarter. If a student leaves in good standing for some reason acceptable to his parents and to the college, these fees paid in advance for the half-quarter succeeding the one in which he leaves will be refunded but no refund is made for the current half-quarter. It has been found that this much margin is essential to stability where no profit margin is provided.

Where patrons cannot conveniently pay for as much as one fourth of the school year at a time, advance payments for one-half quarter without discount are acceptable, but this is the smallest unit by which fees are paid.

Students will not be classified nor assigned any space in the dormitories or dining room until fees have been paid or satisfactory arrangements made. In order to secure the full benefit of the business training offered here, it is advisable that patrons make the students responsible to a large extent for handling their money. Students should carefully examine all bills before paying them or sending them home for payments. They should either pay by check or be sure to get a receipt from the proper official for every penny paid in. Since the college store sells for cash only, they should have accessible enough money for their books, school supplies and incidental expenses and for emergency calls such as sudden calls home or unexpected illness. This money can be deposited in the local bank or can be taken care of by the college. Each student should be careful not to go into debt unnecessarily and should be particularly scrupulous never to leave an unsecured debt in the town. Under no circumstances will the college advance money to students.

It is firmly believed that patrons who will co-operate cordially with the college in its efforts to inculcate habits of fraternal cooperation, of regularity and promptness in meeting obligations, and of reverence for holy things, will find more real value from this extra-curricular training than from all the class work put together.

RATES

On the basis of payments in advance for all that the students receive, Weaver College, is able to offer surprisingly low rates, considering the material, intellectual, and moral advantages which these rates only partly pay for.

The conduct of students in residence during holidays must be satisfactory to the College authorities. Guests of the College or of students are accepted only with the understanding that their action shall not embarrass the administration of the dormitory in which they reside.

Damage and Breakage Deposits are adjusted at the end of each quarter, excess over damage being credited on the next quarter's deposit and the final excess being refunded at Commencement.

The minimum fees for a boarding student taking no "extras" and paying full fees in cash will thus amount to $276.00 for the nine months or to $270.50 if advantage is taken of the discount for advance payments. The $270.50 is payable $75.48 on Registration Day, September 12, 1929; $60.27 on November 14, 1929; $74.48 on January 30, 1930; and $60.27 on April 3, 1930. Fees for the "extras" are also due on the same dates and are subject to the same percentage discount. Read paragraphs below entitled "Ministerial Students," "Self-Help," and "Board Scholarships."

Matriculation Fees are payable when dormitory space is definitely reserved. Student Activity and Library Fees are payable on entrance or at the beginning of the semester, and cannot be divided. Since rates are based on a cash-in-advance system, carelessness in making prompt payments cannot be tolerated beyond a very few irregularities. If statements repeatedly fail to bring payments, tuition and boarding privileges may be discontinued at the discretion of the Bursar. No student shall take his or her baggage away from the dormitory or take any semester examination until his account is settled in full, except with the specific consent of the President. Credit for class work is not awarded until the fees for that unit of the College year have been settled in full. Students wishing their bills and reports sent to parents or guardian should so notify the Secretary, but this does not relieve the student from penalties resulting from delay in payment.

MINISTERIAL STUDENTS

No tuition charge is made to itinerant preachers or their children. Young men preparing for the ministry are allowed to make notes for their tuition with the understanding that these notes will be cancelled when they begin their active ministry. This proposition is offered only to those whose lives indicate Christian principles. Those who use tobacco or indulge in other habits unbecoming to the ministerial profession cannot expect this help. Blanks are available for ministerial students who wish to apply for this deduction in fees.

SELF-HELP.

A limited amount of work is available for students who wish to reduce their college fees below catalogue rates. As a rule the greater part of this work is promised before Commencement for the next college year to those who have already proved their earnestness by at least six months residence at Weaver College.

Some tasks, however, are available for new students who demonstrate their ambition by success with their studies, by good conduct, and by satisfactory performance of the work assigned them. All promises of work are contingent upon success in these three respects. Satisfactory performance of work involves promptness, accuracy, and persistence in staying with a job until its completion.

BOARD SCHOLARSHIPS

The Board of Trustees offers fifty scholarships, known as Board Scholarships. They reduce the fees of needy and worthy self-help students twenty-five dollars a year each and thus bring the cost of Weaver College education within limits which practically every one can reach. While no student can expect to get through his first year in college without some appreciable money outlay, a number who will work and save or whose home friends have financial confidence in them can find scholarship, labor, or loan assistance to enable them to complete a year's work if it is going successfully.

Board Scholarships are available only for students as specified above. They are, therefore, promised only conditionally to new students, dependent upon their satisfactory relation to their studies, their conduct, and their self-help assignments.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

1. No students under sixteen years of age are admitted.
2. No student will be admitted to classes or other privileges of the college without paying all fees due on entrance, and being classified by the faculty. A student is considered as a member of a class until his discontinuance has been sanctioned by the teacher and the Dean. A fee of fifty cents will be charged for changes in course of study later than two weeks after the beginning of any study.
3. No College student shall carry more than nineteen semester hours at a time.
4. Students must, when possible, present certificates of honorable dismissal and credits from former schools.
5. It is very important that students enter the first day.
6. Assignment of room is tentatively made in consideration of the date of application and of previous record in the college. Changes in assignments can be made at any time by the proper college authority. Except by special arrangements only bona fide students who board in the dining hall can be accommodated in the dormitories during the college year. Students who do not live in their homes are required to room and board on the campus.
7. Extra charges will be made for meals served in rooms.
8. All trips off the campus and the reception of visitors must be with the consent of the college on permission from parent or guardian. If parents leave the matter to the discretion of the Faculty, general and special permissions will be granted liberally so long as the conduct of the student shows sufficient maturity and good judgment. Certain serious violations of Regulation Eight automatically suspend or expel a student.
9. All requests from parents should be written or properly confirmed. Notice of requests must be given sufficiently in advance to assure time for correspondence, if deemed necessary.
10. Every student is expected to be present at every task assigned him. There is no more demoralizing habit for a student than that of irregularity in work, and for this reason every legitimate means will be used to avoid the formation of such a habit.
11. The President or his representative must be consulted about social entertainments, periodicals, or public performances of any kind, and he reserves the right to veto any plan which is not, in his judgment, for the good of the college or of any individual.

12. Any act contrary to the rules of the Methodist Church or to the laws of the land is prohibited by the college without further notice. This includes especially card playing, dancing, profanity, gambling, hazing, using or dealing in liquor, immorality, dishonesty, and use of "deadly weapons."

This regulation applies to students on trips for contests and at all other times when the College is responsible for them.

13. Damage to college or personal property shall be paid for by those involved in its destruction. When it is impossible to discover the party or parties doing the damage, the cost shall be divided equally among the occupants of the room, or the building.

14. Any student who withdraws at any time other than after Commencement can secure Honorable Dismissal only by giving notice to the Dean with written permission from guardian, if a minor, and by leaving all financial obligations paid.

15. On Sunday mornings students attend the local church of the denomination to which they belong. If not members of any church, they attend the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, in Weaverville.

16. The Faculty may waive or modify or extend the General Regulations for the good of the pupil, in unusual cases.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

Weaver College offers three different methods of admission to the College department; but entrance to college classes does not necessarily mean admission to candidacy for a diploma. The requirements for graduation are described on pages 45-49 of this catalogue.

1. The presentation of a diploma from a high school accredited by the North Carolina Board of Public Instruction or by the Southern Association of Accredited Colleges and High Schools.

2. The passing of a general examination designed to determine whether or not the student has the general knowledge and the mental ability to assure success in the Freshman class.

3. Special students, twenty years of age or more, may be accepted upon evidence of knowledge and ability sufficient to do successfully the special college work they desire. Diplomas are not awarded to special students until high school and college requirements have been met, but certificates of work accomplished may be secured when any group of studies has been successfully completed.

CLASSIFICATION OF STUDENTS

Entrance examinations will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 10-11, 1929.

Admission to college must be by presentation of a diploma or other certificate of graduation from an accredited high school or by passing entrance examinations. One admitted on either basis is considered a Junior if he is successfully pursuing four courses or an aggregate of twelve recitations a week.

A Senior is one properly admitted to college who has completed thirty semester hours of college work and is carrying successfully five courses aggregating fifteen weekly recitations, or enough work to permit his graduation within one six-weeks session following the coming Commencement.

SUMMER SCHOOL

The Weaver College Summer School was organized:

First, for the purpose of enabling students in Weaver College or other institutions to carry one or two courses in the summer to relieve a strenuous program in the winter session, to make up deficiencies, or to hasten graduation.

Many times the work of the regular session becomes too strenuous to permit the carrying of full time work. This may be due to ill health or to opportunities for leadership in student activities which are too valuable educationally to decline. In such cases it is often advisable to lighten the regular school duties expecting to catch up the deficiencies by summer work. Some times a pupil's program of studies becomes irregular, and a few credits in the summer advance graduation a whole year.

Second, a college student sometimes finds that his taste and talents lie along a line which demands a course of study for which his high school credits are not complete prerequisites. Since he is busy in the winter with his college course, it is often desirable for him to take language or mathematics or some other high school requirement in the summer time that he may pursue the college course which he finds most advantageous for him.

In the third place, many people find that the most advantageous way to spend six weeks or more of the summer is to live on the Weaver campus, enjoy the exhilarating mountain breezes, and carry light work which keeps their minds alive while it does not over task their bodies. The summer school rates make this possible for practically everyone.

The quietness of the campus in the summer makes it a particularly valuable time to prepare one's self for some vocational pursuit such as teaching, secretarial work, bookkeeping, music or industrial arts. One can undertake a course in these branches, carry the work vigorously with full time or with part time attention, and be better prepared for the tasks of the fall. The accessibility of Asheville with its Grand Opera and other artistic advantages adds very much to this side of summer school values.

For the purpose of the summer school, the classes have the advantage of the College equipment in the library, the laboratory, the studio, the commercial room, and the dormitories. As classes are usually smaller in the summer than in the regular session, certain advantages are given to summer school study. This is particularly noticeable in regard to the contact with teachers and the help that they are able to give. The most stimulating relations exist in every department of the summer school.

A portion of the summer school faculty is taken from the faculty of Weaver College, but this is supplemented by teachers of large training and experience from other institutions. For 1929, this affords a faculty whose members have studied in eighteen American and foreign colleges and universities and whose teaching experience guarantees a polished artistry of teaching technique. The privilege of having a place on this faculty is very much desired by a great many strong teachers, and the pupils, while they enjoy the climate themselves, have a double advantage in the strength of the teaching force which the climate helps to bring.

Credits obtained in the summer school are of equal value to those secured during the winter session. They count toward a diploma in Weaver College and toward college degrees in the institutions to which our students go, and they are credited by the North Carolina State Board of Education toward the C grade teachers' certificates.

Practically all high school and junior college courses are available in the summer time if there is sufficient call for them. The most popular studies ordinarily are English, sociology, education, mathematics, history, and languages. It is practically always possible to secure such junior college and preparatory instruction as anyone desires. If the desired course is not advertised and offered as class work, competent individual instruction can almost always be provided at reasonable rates considering the value of the time devoted to the course by the instructor. The College is glad to arrange instruction as desired by its patrons.

The courses offered group themselves into two general types of courses. A course taken for the first time requires practically all of the time and strength a student should devote to study. College classes of this level meet for three recitations a day and are expected to require five hours daily of preparation for the three recitations. High school subjects never studied before require four hours daily five days in the week for six weeks to provide the one hundred and twenty hours involved in the definition of a high school unit. As the high school student has more of a teacher's time than the college student has, he is expected to progress more rapidly in class and to need less study in his own room. In college classes one recitation a day for six weeks with the necessary individual preparation counts as two semester hours. Three recitations a day is as much as one can carry along one line of work, though it is possible to secure eight hours credit by combining laboratory and class room work or some skill study with some thought study or some review work with some advanced work.

Living conditions in the summer time are informal and pleasant practically every minute of the summer. Meals are served at regular hours and pupils and teachers and guests are expected to cause no delay in the dining room service. The dormitories must be quiet at certain hours for sleep and for study. The library must be kept quiet at all times. As Weaver College is a denominational institution, teachers and students are expected to observe the usual customs in regard to church and Sunday school attendance and remaining for family prayers after supper in the evening. Most of the summer school students are of age and not subject to college discipline except as mentioned above. Minors are usually given such supervision as may be agreed upon with their parents. The right is reserved by the summer school administration, however, to discuss with any student the rights of the College and of other members of the summer school and to secure the withdrawal of the student in cases of extreme unpleasantness. The Weaver College regulations in regard to payment for damages to property prevail during the summer time.

Summer school rates are as low as possible to provide good meals, good service, and good teaching. They are as follows:

Board and room rent-----	$35.00
Tuition, one high school unit-----	15.00
Tuition charges for less than one unit, proportionately less.
Tuition in College, each semester hour-----	2.50
Piano or Voice, twelve lessons in the six weeks, with Director -----	15.00
Piano or Voice, twelve lessons with Assistant-----	10.00
Use of practice pianos, two hours daily-----	4.20
Bookkeeping and Shorthand, each, per daily hour of supervision -----	5.00
Typewriting, instruction and two hours daily practice, for the session -----	8.00
Expression, twelve lessons, individual instruction-----	9.00
Expression, twelve lessons in class-----	6.00
Domestic Science or Art, for each semester hour-----	2.50
Laboratory fees, College, for 6-hour course-----	5.00
Laboratory fees, High School-----	4.00
Art Lessons, three each week-----	9.00

Those interested in the Summer School should write for special Summer School folder, which describes the courses, lists the Faculty, and outlines conditions generally. Not more than one high school unit of new work or eight college semester hours credit can be obtained in a six weeks summer school.

SUMMER GUESTS

Frequently a summer school student is accompanied by relatives or friends who wish to be in touch with him or her while one is studying and the other resting. Sometimes such relatives or friends live in the village and visit with the students at times which do not conflict with study periods. Sometimes, however, it is more desirable for all to be together more closely where they can visit at meals and can so arrange their recreation as to take trips together with the least loss of time. The College dormitories are, therefore, open to summer guests who are not studying. Those who accept the conditions under which summer school students are admitted are themselves taken under summer school rates. This means that they remain for the six weeks, that they live under the same regulations as are required of the students, that they room in places convenient for the head of their dormitory, and cause no more inconvenience in any way than is expected of the students.

The administration, however, endeavors in every possible way to make conditions the happiest possible for students, teachers, and guests. If space permits, it is arranged for each one to room alone, though this is not promised at these rates.

If a guest, however, finds student conditions unattractive for any reason, efforts will be made to supply additional attention or conveniences at additional rates. Students keep their own rooms neat and clean, but the care of rooms can be assumed by the College at an additional charge. Similarly food in addition to the regular menu or at extra hours or served in bed rooms can be provided if due notice is given and if the extra service can be provided without entirely too much inconvenience. The effort of Weaver College throughout the year is to give the service desired by its patrons in as perfect form as possible and at as low rates as can be arranged without loss to the institution. Almost any accommodation required can be provided by special arrangement.

COURSES OF STUDY

SELECTION OF COURSES.

No hour in the college year is more important than when the choice of a course of study is made. It involves the solution of such problems as:

Shall I plan for four or only two years of college work?

If only two, what shall I be prepared to do after my Junior College graduation?

What course will best fit me for that work?

If I go on to secure my degree, what college and what majors shall I select?

What Junior college electives fit best into the requirements of the chosen course in the chosen college?

The units offered for admission often influence the selection of the course in college, but many students work up pre-requisites in the summer or during the college year and undertake exactly the college work they feel best fitted to carry. The junior college is particularly adapted to the needs of these young people.

On entering the Freshman class; if one is unable to answer the above questions, either the Education Course or the Business Administration Course is advisable. Both prepare in some measure for life work, and both make possible the continuance of college training if it is desirable.

The Classical Course should usually be chosen by those who feel quite sure that they will eventually secure a college degree and the General Course by those who see no prospects of more than junior college training.

Weaver College offers five two-year courses of study:

I. CLASSICAL COURSE.—This course consists largely of language and mathematics and is intended to fit its students for entrance to the junior year of a four-year college or university with such credits as to make possible the securing of the A. B. degree in two years.

II. EDUCATION COURSE.—This involves Language, Education and Religious Education and is designed to fit its students for junior work in the department of Education or Religious Education in a four-year college or university. Those who finish this course are also reasonably well prepared to teach in public or church schools and to serve their day and generation as well-informed citizens of the world.

III. BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION.—This course deals largely with economics, business geography, and salesmanship and leads to junior work in Business Administration in the four-year colleges. It also serves quite well to fit for business life those who are not able to take a degree.

IV. MUSIC COURSE.—This involves a considerable amount of study of the theory and practice of music and prepares its successful students for junior work in the Bachelor of Music course. It also fits talented young people for considerable efficiency as performers or music teachers.

V. GENERAL COURSE.—This is a course intended to fit intimately into the personal needs of each individual student, but is not intended to prepare one for a college degree. Approximately half of this course is made up of the back-bone of junior college work, while the other half is elective. Thus the man or woman who has definite plans for usefulness in home, church, or state can select just the work that is useful to him without too much dictation from the traditional course of study.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS

1. All high school as well as all college requirements must be satisfied before any diploma is secured.

2. Credit is never allowed for only one year of any language.

3. Applied Music courses of college grade to the limit of four semester hours and Theory of Music courses not to exceed six semester hours may be counted as electives in the General Course.

4. All electives are subject to the approval of the faculty.

5. In addition to the quantitative requirements already described for graduation, it is required that an average of at least 80% be made either in the senior year or in the two college years on all courses counted for diploma.

6. Diplomas certify to correct deportment as well as to intellectual attainments, and the College Attitude grade must therefore average at least II (80%) during the senior year.

7. Diplomas will not be granted to those who are known to have at the time obligations to the college or to others unless these obligations have been arranged for in some way satisfactory to the creditor.

DESCRIPTION OF COURSES

A semester hour is the credit given for passing a subject pursued one hour a week through a semester. A class meeting three times a week for one semester will give three semester hours credit, or six semester hours for the two semesters in the college year. Laboratory work requires two hours of work a week for a semester to count as one semester hour credit.

Courses numbered with "f" or "s" are offered in the first or second semesters, respectively. All others extend through both semesters and credit is not given for either semester alone.

DEPARTMENT OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

CI.—BUSINESS GEOGRAPHY (six semester hours)

All students who intend later to take up agriculture or go into business would do well to take this course. A study of the geography, natural resources, commerce, and production of different countries in the world is made, with special reference to the United States. Graphic and statistical charts showing the relative rank of the United States with other nations are made by the students at various times. A careful study of the map of the world is made, and students are required to fill in outline maps.

Text: Huntington and Williams, Revised Edition.

CII.—PRINCIPLES OF ECONOMICS (six semester hours).

A general survey of the principles of Economics. Industrial history and economic development, production, value and exchange, money and banking, public and private finance, international socialism, and the Federal Reserve System are considered in turn. Collateral reading required of all students in Business Administration.

CIII^f.—SOCIOLOGY, an introductory course (three semester hours).

No attempt is made at completeness of treatment of any topic, but the fundamental influences affecting group life and action and the fundamental needs of mankind are outlined. Study of the family and such problems as the divorce evil, immigration, poverty, crime, the negro problem, and problems of our modern municipalities is made.

Lectures; much supplementary reading; class reports and notebook work.

Text: Beach, Introduction to Sociology.

CIIIs.—SALESMANSHIP AND MARKETING (three semester hours).

The qualifications of a good salesman; the psychology of selling; analysis of a sale—the approach, clinching the point, concluding the sale; the organization of a sales department; advertising; principles and methods of various markets. Practical problems in selling and marketing are given and an attempt made to solve them.

SCHOOL OF MUSIC

It is the purpose of the School of Music to provide a general musical education as well as the specialized training necessary for those who contemplate making music a vocation. Courses are provided meeting the requirements of both professional and cultural training. These courses afford a logical development of musical knowledge by means of technical, scientific, and interpretative training in various phases of music, with Pianoforte, Voice, and Theory and Violin as major subjects. They are accompanied by lectures, recitals, and parallel reading to stimulate imagination and broaden the musical viewpoint.

Correlated with music are such academic subjects as will give breadth and intellectual solidity to the musical development. Underlying all the work of the Department is the purpose to develop musical thinkers rather than showy, superficial performers. The generally accepted truth that music is a vital part of life is the foundation on which all the work of the Department is based.

Those who are so endowed as to make it advisable will be as highly trained in technical facility and interpretation as is possible, so that they will be prepared to continue their studies in music centers under the most highly specialized conditions, and be able to impress their real artistic and technical proficiency upon those who hear them. Hence students who finish the courses offered will be ready to enter upon an active musical career or further to carry on their study at any music school in the country with credit to themselves and to Weaver College.

For those whose endowments are not such as to warrant this extended training, courses in the Theory of Music, Music Appreciation, Musical History and collateral subjects are offered. These courses, if faithfully carried on, will enable our graduates to listen appreciatively to concerts and to music in the church and home, and also to express themselves musically with good understanding, supported by excellent musical taste. The message of music as an integral part of a full educational equipment will be taught.

The conditions under which work in music is carried on at Weaver College greatly assist in the accomplishment of the purposes described in previous paragraphs. Music needs the college atmosphere, the spirit of culture and well-directed effort, and the application of the methods of orderliness and system which characterize college work. These, while not checking in the least its artistic attributes, bring to it a system in classification and a thoroughness and accuracy in the co-ordination of all phases of music education that cannot fail to result in the highest accomplishment. The earnest endeavor which characterizes Weaver College, the many influential graduates produced during its long period of activity, the enthusiasm of those responsible for its policies, and the high ideals which stimulate it, combine to give character and educational power to the work of both instructors and students.

The courses of study offered, and the methods used in their presentation, are the result of years of testing and experience. Their value has been shown in the lives of those who have taken them, and they are offered with the assurance that they will enable the faithful student to reach the desired goal.

Students will be received in all stages of the work from elementary to the most advanced. The Department takes beginners and prepares them for entrance into the B. Mus. course, the instruction in this department leading without break in method into the advanced work necessary in the B. Mus degree courses.

REQUIREMENTS FOR CERTIFICATE OF PROFICIENCY

A Certificate of Proficiency will be given to students who complete satisfactorily all the work outlined in Theoretical Music and all the post graduate courses in Applied Music in either Pianoforte or Voice Training. It certifies that the recipient has completed the musical requirements for the B. Mus. degree, but has not taken the literary work required for that degree in the Junior and Senior years of a four-year college.
